What does legitimate interest mean?

In order to undertake its charitable activity and account for its activities to funders, regulators and other stakeholders, Level Trust has to collect and process a certain amount of data, some of which will be personal data.

Why do we ask for sensitive data?

We sometimes ask for sensitive data, such as disability and ethnicity to help us with equal opportunities monitoring so we can demonstrate that we are reaching all sectors of the community, and fulfilling our commitment to equal opportunities.

We ask for information about medical conditions in order to protect the health and wellbeing of staff, volunteers and project participants.

Data sharing

We use data to compile and share anonymised reports, which helps us to demonstrate our commitment to equal opportunities as well as to demonstrate to funders the impact of our project.

In occasional circumstances, we may need to disclose your details, to police, regulatory bodies or legal advisors.

Data retention and security

We will take reasonable precautions to ensure your data is not lost, misused or falsely altered. Data is only retained for as long as we need it to provide you with the service you asked for.

Data Processing

Level Trust has written contracts in place with the following third parties that we use to process data:

- Individuals may donate money to Level Trust through online platforms JustGiving. Individuals will be asked to consent to these organisations' privacy policies before sharing their details. More information can be found on those organisations' websites:
<https://www.justgiving.com/info/privacy-policy-versions/privacy-policy-v20>
- MailChimp is used for the management and distribution of mailings. MailChimp is a United States-based company and therefore information may be transferred to, stored, or processed in the United States. MailChimp 'participates in and complies with the EU-U.S. Privacy Shield Framework as set forth by the US Department of Commerce regarding the collection, use, and retention of Personal Data (defined in Section 2.1) from European Economic Area ("EEA") member countries.' More information can be found on MailChimp's website:

Your rights

- You have the right to request access to your data
- You have the right to correct your data if it is incorrect
- You have the right to request erasure of your data
- You have the right to object to your data being processed

If you wish to exercise any of these rights please contact Level Trust on 07480 753 905, or email neil.ohara@leveltrust.org

The use of automated decision making

Your data is not used in any automated decision making (making a decision solely by automated means without any human involvement) or profiling (automated processing of personal data to evaluate certain conditions about an individual).

The use of cookies on our websites

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyse data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system.

Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us.

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.

By using the Level Trust website you agree to the use of cookies on the site. You can find out more about the way our website uses cookies at https://codex.wordpress.org/WordPress_Cookies

We may also use Google Analytics to track website usage. More details about how Google Analytics uses cookies is available at <https://developers.google.com/analytics/devguides/collection/analyticsjs/cookie-usage/>
